Matilda Bookshop, in partnership with Writers SA, and in association with Ultimo Press, offers an annual residency fellowship to a South Australian writer. The fellowship provides support (time, writing space and mentoring) to work on a writing project of literary merit. As there are currently no other SA residency fellowships offered to SA writers, the fellowship remedies a gap in the literary community. Applications will be assessed by Writers SA staff, with the shortlist judged by Writers SA and Matilda Bookshop. Ultimo Press will provide consultation and manuscript assessment to the recipient.

RESIDENCY DETAILS

The Residency is for one week (seven nights) and includes the following:

- A travel/living subsidy of $500.
- One week's accommodation at Grass Tree Gully in Deep Creek for uninterrupted writing time. Breakfast and lunch will be provided daily, but please note that the food provided is for the resident fellow only.
- A one-and-a-half-hour mentorship session with author and experienced mentor, Pip Williams, a week ahead of the residency (either in-person or online), with a follow-up session at either one-month or three-months after the residency, as decided by the writer and the needs of their project. The mentor will have read the submission material, including outline/synopsis, ahead of the first mentoring session. Follow-up mentoring session in 2024 is a creative check-in, and will not involve a full manuscript assessment.
- An initial one-hour phone consultation with Ultimo Press, after reading submission material, followed by a full manuscript assessment and further one-hour consultation on delivery of finished work.

APPLICATION DETAILS

- Applications will open Wednesday 1 February 2023, and must be submitted via surveyMonkey.com/r/deepcreekres by 11:59pm Friday 1 April 2023.
- The successful recipients will be notified Friday by June 30 2023.
- The week-long residency will take place from Monday 16th - 23rd October 2023.
- There is no application fee, and no program fees apply. Regional writers may apply for a higher travel/living subsidy at the time of application and this will depend on the location they are travelling from.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Applications will be considered according to:

- The impact of the opportunity on the writer.
